Remodeling Project of the Year R.J. Landis Design & Construction, Inc.

R.J. Landis Design & Construction, Inc. won the Remodeling Project of the Year for updating a 12-year-old custom home. Although roomy, the home needed to be updated to meet the growing needs of the family's five teenagers.

The total project includes the redesign and remodel of the kitchen, dinette, hearth room and laundry room.

The owners wanted the kitchen to be visually stunning, modern, functional, and easy to clean, with lots of countertop space and cabinets. R.J. Landis Design & Construction met the owners' requirements. The kitchen now features a unique multilevel island. The company opened the ceiling and stretched it to nine feet and they extended a peninsula which provides extra cabinets and countertop space.
